連合赤軍事件刑事訴訟記録
Rengō Sekigun Jiken Keiji Soshō Kiroku

item_ID: 64001
CourtseriesID: 1

This is a complete set of the documents submitted to Tokyo District Court in the first trial of the major Rengō Sekigun defendants. Initially, Mori Tsuneo, Nagata Hiroko, Sakaguchi Hiroshi, Uegaki Yasuhiro, Bandō Kunio, Yoshino Masakuni, and Katō Tomonori were charged in this case, with Judge Ishimaru Toshihiko presiding. Mori Tsuneo committed suicide in December, 1972, and Katō and Yoshino broke with the others to join what became known as the Rengō Sekigun Split (Bunri) trial, which continued under Judge Ishimaru. The remaining defendants (Nagata, Sakaguchi, Bandō and Uegaki) were then tried in the Rengō Sekigun Unified (Tōitsu) trial. However, in 1975 Bandō was released from jail by the Japanese Red Army and went to the Middle East, while the remaining defendants continued on trial in Japan. Since the defendants in this trial changed over time, the labeling of sets of documents in terms of the "first" defendant also changed. These labels are included to help identify specific volumes, but they bear no relation to the content of the volumes, which we will annotate at a later time. These volumes contain the original evidence, including witness testimony, that was submitted in the case, including evidence against defendants later separated out, and evidence about incidents prior to the actual Rengō Sekigun and Asama Sansō incidents that were combined in the charges. Because of the nature of the materials they can only be viewed on-site, they cannot be photocopied, and names of persons other than the defendants and court personnel may not be cited, to protect the privacy of other persons. There are 82 separate bound volumes in the set.

連合赤軍事件 統一公判 item_ID: 64002
 Rengō Sekigun Jiken Tōitsu Kōhan CourtseriesID: 2

This set contains the decision from the first Rengō Sekigun unified trial in Tokyo district court by Judge Nakano Takeo in 1982 against remaining defendants Nagata Hiroko, Uegaki Yasuhiro, and Sakaguchi Hiroshi, and the appeals filed shortly thereafter by the three defendants in the Tokyo higher court. Although the decision pertains to the set of documents listed as Court Series #1 and the appeals trial documents are contained in Court Series #3, we have put these three documents together as a separate unit because the appeal statements refer directly to the lower court's written decision authored by Judge Nakano.

土田・日石・ピース缶爆弾事件公判弁護側記録
Tsuchida-Nisseki-Pisu-kan bakudan jiken kōhan

item_ID: 64005
CourtseriesID: 5

The seven volumes in this series cover the trials and retrials collectively known as the Tsuchida-Nisseki-Peace Can Bomb Incident trials. In this case, police and prosecutors erroneously linked three different bombing incidents and charged a number of people with an elaborate plot that the authorities had constructed to link the events. Under heavy interrogation and pressure, some defendants initially confessed to the parts assigned to them in the authorities' scenario. After some defendants had already been convicted and others were on trial but insisting on their innocence, the authorities' scenario began to unravel. Two people unrelated to the authorities' scenario came forward to testify that they had actually done acts for which the defendants were being tried, and provided convincing proof of their involvement. The remaining defendants on trial were found innocent and those who had already been convicted were retried and found innocent. The Takazawa Collection contains extensive materials on this case because Takazawa Kōji wrote a book about it, which is also in the collection. The final court decision is included as a separate item in the set.

朝霞自衛官殺害事件 item_ID: 64006
 Asaka Jieikan Satsugai Jiken CourtseriesID: 6

This case arose from an attack on the Asaka Self-Defense Force base on August 22, 1971, in which one member of the Self-Defense forces was killed. The incident is also known as the Sekieigun Incident. The attack was allegedly carried out by an underground organization called Sekieigun, and Kikui Ryōji, Arai Mitsufumi, Shimada Masanori, Yoshida Hiromi, and Andō Hiromi were arrested and tried for the murder. Kyoto University Graduate Assistant Takemoto Nobuhiro, better known by his pen-name of Takita Osamu, was thought to be associated with the group and a warrant was put out for his arrest. Takita went underground. After the initial statute of limitations ran out on the case the time limit on his arrest warrant was extended for an additional 12 years, during which time Takita began publishing articles in New Left journals while remaining underground. This led to the arrest of journalists who had been involved in the publications. However, Takita was never formally charged in the case. The Takazawa Collection contains extensive materials about both Takita and this case, in addition to the trial documents. Tokyo Higher Court is listed on the cover, but the contents mostly pertain to the first trial in Urawa District Court, suggesting that this is the set of materials from the first trial that were submitted in the appeal.

1971-2 nen Sekigunha Saibansho Bunsho

item_ID: 64008
CourtseriesID: 8

This set contains four documents from Sekigunha trials in 1971-72. They are minor internal documents from the court proceedings, but they shed interesting light on how the defense works in such political cases. The first concerned items seized in a search, the second and third relate to the Daibosatsu trial, and the third concerns the use of Daibosatsu testimony later when Shiomi Takaya and six others were charged with violating the Anti-Subversive Activities Law.
